3. How to Run Successful Events

- FREE FOOD (lines will be very long for free food)
- Follow trends (acai bowls, matcha, slime, etc.)
- Book your room as early as you know (Red river lounge, tv lounge, plaza)
- Put fliers on each floor (must be approved by advisor)

- Promote event at least 1 week before (put up fliers, send roomcompact message, social media)
- Submit event proposal 10-14 days in advance (allows time for deliveries and proper approvals)
- Set up event at least 1 hour before (depends on complexity)
- Create check in qr code (tracks how many residents attended your event)

4. Sample Events

- It can be hard to get the ball rolling at the beginning of the semester because everyone is learning new roles, so I made a list of easy events (that I wish I had) to start the year off.

7. Other things

- Request as much money as possible from URHA (if RHCs dont use it then the money will dissappear)
- Use URHA's decorations (candles, vases, polaroid film, etc.)
- Complete senator requirements early on (don't be stressed at the end of the year)
- Learn to use Roompack early on so you can help your team
- Set a good example for your RHC (be on time and show up to events)
- Do atleast 1 big event per semester (usually the advisor takes the lead on this)

8. Who to contact

- URHA VP- Finance & Admin (urha.vpfa@austin.utexas.edu)
 - For questions about senator requirements and requesting funding

 - For questions about decorations and stuff to rent out
- Your advisor
 - They somehow have all the answers
- Jester West
 - Make collab events where y'all can split costs, also allows access to URHA collaborative fund
 - WARNING: You'll need a special funding request form called OOEF if your combined spending is over $999 I believe
- Me (Austin Angelot)
 - For questions about anything regarding the role
 - Austinangelot@my.utexas.edu

9. Notes

- I got some cool free stuff! (bevo slippers, padfolio, lunchbox)
- Join NRHH they gave free Owalas and tote bags
- Try not to stress if events don't go well or if there's problems. People will forget about it the next day.
- I know this is cringey, but I actually learned a lot from this role. It was a great leadership experience, and I felt a lot more confident after taking this on. Good luck and I hope you have a great time!
